BY STORM AND FLOOD

LOSS OF LIFE AND GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN OHIO.

DETAILS ARE VERY MEAGRE

Rumored That a Man and His Daughter Perished Near Ripley—Family of Seven Said to Have Been Drowned in Brown County—Wires Down and Communication With the Stricken District Is Cut Off.

Cincinnati, June 7.—Up to midnight no confirmation could be obtained of the surmise that John Heitt and his daughter perished in the flood near Ripley. Another unconfirmed rumor was extant in Maysville, Ky., that the entire family of a man named Hughes, consisting of his wife and six children, were drowned in their home near Ellisburg in Brown county, O. This rumor is believed to be an exaggerated account of the Heitt case. No estimate of the financial loss can be made.

Cyrus Storer was drowned in Brush creek, near West Union. He was overtaken by the flood while fishing. Edward Stewart, a farm laborer, was struck by lightning and instantly killed in a field near Remington. Clement Apgar, who was working beside him, was rendered unconscious. Wires are down and all communication with the stricken district is cut off.

VERKES IN CONTROL.

Has Bought Up the London Underground Railway.

London, June 7.—"Yes," said Mr. Yerkes when interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press, "we have practically got control of the underground railways. That is what it means to us. My syndicate is composed of both British and American capitalists, though most of the capital comes from the United States. We hope to begin work in a few months, as soon as the consent of parliament can be obtained. The system we expect to put in is similar to that in use on the elevated roads in Chicago. We will sell the present equipment and introduce our own system. We intend to rebuild the stations and make the system the most perfect of any in the world."

NINE PERSONS INJURED.

Passenger Trains Collide Just North of Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss., June 7.—Nine persons were injured, three seriously, in a head-on collision between two Mississippi Valley passenger trains north of Vicksburg.

Of the passengers, Miss Mary Doughty of Nacogdoches, Tex., was the most seriously injured, her arm and hand being crushed. A number of other passengers were badly shaken up. The trains met on a sharp curve near Flowerse, 16 miles north of this city, and but for the prompt action of Engineer Jones of the northbound train in reversing his engine the wreck would have been more complete. The southbound train was six and a half hours late and was running at a high rate of speed to make up time. At Clarksdale, five hours earlier, the southbound train crashed into a caboose and Engineer Dana received injuries which may prove fatal.

FLAG DAY AT BUFFALO.

Patriotic Societies Will Visit the Exposition June 14.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 7.—The tentative programme for the flag day exercises at the Pan-American exposition grounds have been announced. They will take place in the Temple of Music on June 14. General Miles will be present and deliver an address. Richmond Pearson Hobson will also speak. Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, president of the Daughters of American Revolution, will deliver an address on "American Patriotism." President John G. Milburn of the exposition will welcome the patriotic societies represented in the gathering. The musical part of the programme will be in the hands of Sousa, whose entire band will be present.

OTJEN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Wisconsin Congressman Hurler Forty Feet by an Electric Car.

Milwaukee, June 7.—Congressman Theobald Otjen and his private secretary, Nathaniel Green, were run down by an electric car of the Milwaukee and Racine line during the afternoon while driving in a buggy. Both men are said to be seriously injured. The car was going at a rapid gait when Mr. Otjen made the attempt to cross the track. The buggy was smashed and the occupants hurled a distance of 40 or 50 feet. Physicians are now trying to ascertain the extent of the injuries.

AFTER A MINING COMPANY.

Dissolving Steps Taken by Minnesota's Attorney General.

St. Paul, June 7.—Attorney General Douglass has taken steps to dissolve the American Mining Investment company, and Sheriff Megard of Minneapolis served an order upon W. S. Brill, president of the company, directing him to appear before the district court June 17 and show cause why the charter of the corporation should not be revoked.

The company was organized Nov. 22, 1899, and since that time has occupied luxurious offices. At present it is located on the sixth floor of the Andrus building in Minneapolis, where a large office force is maintained.

The company has done a large business, but the attorney general claims that it has been in violation of law. Its business has been the promotion of mining, but under the terms of its revised charter it could engage in manufacturing, transportation, and almost anything it might choose. One purpose, according to its articles of incorporation, was to "borrow and raise money."

This it is claimed it did, but the state says its methods were not above suspicion. It has paid dividends regularly, but the attorney general asserts the money was not earned by the mines, but came from the sale of stock, of which it has an inexhaustible quantity, one company being capitalized for $500,000,000.

BEVERIDGE'S MISSION.

Has Had Long Interviews With Russian Ministers.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—Senator Beveridge has had long interviews with M. de Witte, minister of finance; Count Lansdorff, minister of foreign affairs; M. Pobedonostseff, procurator general of the holy synod, and Prince Khilkoff, minister of railways. He will begin a detailed study of the sugar, iron and cotton industries. He will now go to Kieff. In addition to the work already outlined before starting for Siberia, he will spend a few days on the estate of Count Sheremetieff, studying agricultural conditions and local self government from the "commune to the Zemstvo." He will be in European Russia for about a month.

INDIAN CHIEF IS MISSING.

Had Trouble With a Young Red and Foul Play Is Suspected.

La Crosse, Wis., June 7.—Chief Whiteboy of the Winnebago Indians has disappeared mysteriously and his whereabouts is unknown. It is feared that he was murdered, inasmuch as he had trouble with a young Indian, John Waukon, who some time ago abducted his daughter. Through the services of the police of this city the daughter was located at Stoddard, where she was taken from Waukon, who followed the father and daughter to this city, threatening to have revenge.

CRUISER SOUTH DAKOTA.

Will Be Launched Oct. 1, 1902, and Ready for the Sea in 1904.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 7.—The state historical society has taken hold of the matter of selecting a design for the new cruiser South Dakota, which is to be constructed by the government. As the result of correspondence with the officers of the proper bureau at Washington, the officers of the society have just been officially informed that it is the intention of the government to have the cruiser launched Oct. 1, 1902, and ready for sea Jan. 1, 1904.

ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER.

Jones, Rice and Rutledge Held for Killing Constable Boyd.

Toronto, Ont., June 7.—Jones, Rice and Rutledge, who were brought here from Chicago, have been found guilty of robbing the Aurora, Ont., postoffice. These are the burglars who made such a desperate attempt to escape Tuesday night when Constable Boyd was killed and Jones very badly wounded. They will be arraigned for murder. Crown Attorney Curran says Rice, who, it is alleged, fired the shot that killed Boyd, is supposed to have killed a man during a robbery in Chicago.

PRESIDENT CANNOT ATTEND.

Cancels His Date at the Buffalo Exposition.

Washington, June 7.—The president, through Secretary Cortelyou, has formally notified the Buffalo exposition management that he would not be able to attend the exposition on the 13th inst., as had been planned, but added that he hoped to be able to do so at some later date, not yet designated.

Naval Officer Courtmartialled.

Washington, June 7.—News has been received here through unofficial channels that Lieutenant Richard H. Townley of the navy has been convicted by courtmartial at Manila and sentenced to dismissal from the service. The charge on which Lieutenant Townley was courtmartialled was in connection with the recent commissary irregularities at Manila. The sentence must be approved by the president to become effective.

MAY BE VANDERBILT

RUMORED HE WILL BE ELECTED A DIRECTOR OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

COMPLETE HARMONIZATION

Clash Between Important Banking Concerns Has Ended in a Compromise and Brings the New York Central and Pennsylvania Interests Into Lines Operating From Chicago to the Pacific Coast.

New York, June 7.—The Press says: W. K. Vanderbilt, or a representative of the New York Central system, will be elected a director of the Northern Pacific railway. Samuel McCrea, vice president of the Pennsylvania company, will enter the directorate of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.

These changes come supplementing the election of one of J. Pierpont Morgan's partners as a member of the directorate of the Atchison company and the election of W. H. Moore, an associate of Mr. Morgan, as a director of the Rock Island. They indicate complete "harmonization" of the important railroad interests of the country.

The clash between important banking interests has ended in a compromise, and included in the compromise is the introduction of both the New York Central and Pennsylvania interests into the lines operating from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

The elections of directors which have taken place and those in prospect in Western lines merely are steps toward carrying out a grand scheme of consolidation. More important, of course, among these details is the probable election of W. K. Vanderbilt, or a representative of the Vanderbilt interests, to the directorate of the Northern Pacific.

ROOT NOT CORRECTLY QUOTED.

Told Cubans He Could Not Change an Act of Congress.

Washington, June 7.—In view of the several representations made in Havana regarding the interpretation of the secretary of war to the Cuban commissioners of the Platt amendment it can be stated authoritatively that the secretary did not deviate from the declaration that the president and himself had no power to change an act of congress. It is said here that the amendments which the Cuban convention made to the Platt law and the incorporations of conversations with Secretary Root did not represent his views of the amendment. Nor was he correctly quoted in the alleged statements.

STOLE THE VETO.

Probably Thought the Measure Would Then Become a Law.

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—Governor Yates' veto of a bill appropriating $28,000 for the relief of one Partello, which was passed by the last legislature, has been stolen from the office of the secretary of state, probably with the belief that the disappearance of the veto message would nullify the veto itself. A duplicate of the stolen paper was immediately prepared and signed by the governor. Partello was under contract to build the state reform school at Pontiac. He failed and his claim was for building material, which he claimed the state was liable for. The relief bill was vetoed by the governor.

President Grants Five Pardons.

Washington, June 7.—The president has acted upon 14 applications for pardons. He commuted four sentences and granted five pardons. Among those pardoned were Richard Toulmin, who was convicted in the United States consular court at Shanghai, China, in 1898, of the murder of a Chinaman on board the American ship Dosing, in the harbor of Wu Chow, and sentenced to life imprisonment in Shanghai prison for American convicts.

Held on Murder Charge.

Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—G. B. Dunton, a yard conductor in the employ of the Southern railway, has been bound over without bail to the superior court on the charge of murder. Evidence heard at the preliminary trial tended to show that Dunton was on the switch engine which on Tuesday ran into the Macon passenger train on the Southern, killing three people.

Large Harvest Now Certain.

St. Paul, June 7.—Telegraphic advices from different parts of the Northwest show that all danger of a drought is passed. Generous showers have fallen all through the spring wheat belt, and farmers are jubilant over the certainty of a bountiful harvest. The Dakotas are particularly fortunate, and never was there a brighter prospect for the grain fields of those states.

REPORT CONFIRMED.

Company Formed to Operate Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railways.

Omaha, June 7.—Fred A. Nash, president of the American Smelting and Refining company and who is one of the promoters of the proposed combination of city and suburban railways and other franchised corporations of this city and Council Bluffs, Ia., has returned from New York and Chicago. Mr. Nash confirmed the report of the formation of the new corporation and explained in detail its objects. He said that the capitalization would be about $10,000,000. He explained that a meeting was held in New York the latter part of May at which all of the interested corporations were represented. At that time propositions were made to their representatives to either buy outright the several companies at a certain rate for each company, or to exchange stock in the new corporation for that of the other concerns at a higher rate. At the time the offers were made it was understood that all were satisfied with the terms but later it was learned that the matter had not been presented at a meeting of the stockholders of the Omaha Street Railway company and that there was some dissatisfaction with regard to the price to be paid for that company's property.

Mr. Nash said there was no doubt but the consolidation would be accomplished within a short time, even though the Omaha street railway did not come into it at once.

SNOW IN THE DAKOTAS.

People of Those States Treated to June Snowstorm.

Lead, S. D., June 7.—The exercises of the state convention of the Knights of Pythias have been hindered greatly on account of the snow and rain that have been falling most of the time. The weather has been extremely disagreeable. Southwestern South Dakota people have been given a sight of a snowstorm in June.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 7.—Snow is falling at Rugby, Larimore and Langdon, covering the northwestern part of the state. The precipitation since the rain's beginning has been about three inches.

Provincial Government at Cavite.

Manila, June 7.—Commissioners Taft, Wright and Ide are at Cavite, establishing a provincial government. They were formally welcomed by Colonel Goodrell and the local dignitaries in the town hall. Judge Taft spoke outlining the commission's provincial plans.

TILLMAN AND M'LAURIN

Characteristics of the Two South Carolina Ex-Senators.

BOTH GIFTED WITH ELOQUENCE.

Utterances of the Former Have Attracted Comment All Over the United States—How Tillman Gained His Early Education and Lost His Left Eye—Sketch of McLaurin.

In view of the controversy between ex-Senators Benjamin Ryan Tillman and John Lowndes McLaurin of South Carolina, the following incidents in their lives descriptive of their characteristics are of timely interest:

Ex-Senator Tillman is fearless of speech, his tongue is vitriolic, and he is gifted with a rude eloquence, says the Chicago Herald. He was born on his father's plantation at Chester, Edgefield county, S. C., and during the war he attended school at Liberty Hill, 30 miles away. The boy's craving for learning and his indomitable will were displayed when he was 15 years old. He knew that at 16 he must enter the Confederate army. His elder brothers in the field wrote back to him that he must make the best of his opportunities while at school, for the war might last so long that he might never have educational advantages. So young Tillman, when supper was eaten, would carry a lighted pine knot to the woods and there in the solitude of night study his Greek roots and Latin conjugations. One night the heat of the torch injured his left eye. A hurried and indiscreet plunge of his head into cold water brought on a pulpy tumor, and when the eye was well the war was over, and the sight was gone.

Tillman is a remarkable man. There is not another man like him in all the world. If he was a preacher, Sam Jones would be unworthy to hold a candlelight for him. As a pulpit fanatic he could arouse this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, once remarked a correspondent of the St. Louis Republic.

I have seen Tillman speak to a multitude of 5,000 men in the heat of a political campaign; heard him brand his accusers as "infernal liars and unmitigated scoundrels." I have seen 5,000 men pull Tillman from the stand and, lifting him high into the air, rush off with the most enthusiastic yells that ever echoed from mortal lips.

The lifting of a single finger of his caused a great concourse of people to hiss that brave and gallant old southern hero, General Wade Hampton, when he attempted to make a speech to his fellow citizens in his native state, and the simple "passing down the word" sent the young man lurching to the senate as Hampton's successor.

Tillman never made a political speech until 1885. Then he suddenly sprang before the poor farmers. He used homely illustrations, and often they were forcible. He addressed enormous mass meetings and said things which attracted comment all over the United States. Here are some: "I deny that all men are created equal."

"I would rather go to hell with my followers than to heaven with the other crowd."

"I am one of God Almighty's gentlemen."

"I am rough and uncouth, but before God Almighty I am honest."

Ex-Senator John Lowndes McLaurin of South Carolina is a member of a family of old time southern politicians, his father having been a prominent figure in his section before the war and his mother having been a Miss Weatherly and a descendant of a long line of officeholders. He is a native of Marlborough county, S. C., and went at an early age to Englewood, N. J. His school career was a stormy one, beginning with a misunderstanding with a teacher in a Quaker school near Philadelphia which terminated disastrously for both, the teacher getting a drubbing and young McLaurin a dismissal. As an athlete he was popular with his school fellows, however, both at the military school which he afterward attended at Charlotte, N. C., and the University of Virginia, where he took the law course, being graduated in 1882.

He was successful as a lawyer and was an early recruit of the Tillman movement. In 1890 he was elected to the state legislature, and in 1891 he became attorney general of the state. He was a special pet of Senator Tillman, then governor, who spoke of him affectionately in public speeches as "little curly head Johnnie" and thereby fastened that nickname upon him.

Mr. McLaurin is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs about 175 pounds and carries himself as straight as an Indian. He is an eloquent speaker, has curly brown hair and blue eyes and a complexion as fair as a girl's.

Large Harvest Now Certain.

St. Paul, June 7.—Telegraphic advices from different parts of the Northwest show that all danger of a drought is passed. Generous showers have fallen all through the spring wheat belt, and farmers are jubilant over the certainty of a bountiful harvest. The Dakotas are particularly fortunate, and never was there a brighter prospect for the grain fields of those states.

REPORT CONFIRMED.

Company Formed to Operate Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railways.

Omaha, June 7.—Fred A. Nash, president of the American Smelting and Refining company and who is one of the promoters of the proposed combination of city and suburban railways and other franchised corporations of this city and Council Bluffs, Ia., has returned from New York and Chicago. Mr. Nash confirmed the report of the formation of the new company and explained in detail its objects. He said that the capitalization would be about $10,000,000. He explained that a meeting was held in New York the latter part of May at which all of the interested corporations were represented. At that time propositions were made to their representatives to either buy outright the several companies at a certain rate for each company, or to exchange stock in the new corporation for that of the other concerns at a higher rate. At the time the offers were made it was understood that all were satisfied with the terms but later it was learned that the matter had not been presented at a meeting of the stockholders of the Omaha Street Railway company and that there was some dissatisfaction with regard to the price to be paid for that company's property.

Mr. Nash said there was no doubt but the consolidation would be accomplished within a short time, even though the Omaha street railway did not come into it at once.

TILLMAN AND M'LAURIN

Characteristics of the Two South Carolina Ex-Senators.

BOTH GIFTED WITH ELOQUENCE.

Utterances of the Former Have Attracted Comment All Over the United States—How Tillman Gained His Early Education and Lost His Left Eye—Sketch of McLaurin.

In view of the controversy between ex-Senators Benjamin Ryan Tillman and John Lowndes McLaurin of South Carolina, the following incidents in their lives descriptive of their characteristics are of timely interest:

Ex-Senator Tillman is fearless of speech, his tongue is vitriolic, and he is gifted with a rude eloquence, says the Chicago Herald. He was born on his father's plantation at Chester, Edgefield county, S. C., and during the war he attended school at Liberty Hill, 30 miles away. The boy's craving for learning and his indomitable will were displayed when he was 15 years old. He knew that at 16 he must enter the Confederate army. His elder brothers in the field wrote him that he must make the best of his opportunities while at school, for the war might last so long that he might never have educational advantages. So young Tillman, when supper was eaten, would carry a lighted pine knot to the woods and there in the solitude of night study his Greek roots and Latin conjugations. One night the heat of the torch injured his left eye. A hurried and indiscreet plunge of his head into cold water brought on a purpury tumor, and when the eye was well the war was over, and the sight was gone.

Tillman is a remarkable man. There is not another man like him in all the world. If he was a preacher, Sam Jones would be unworthy to hold a candlelight for him. As a pulpit fanatic he could arouse this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, once remarked a correspondent of the St. Louis Republic.

I have seen Tillman speak to a multitude of 5,000 men in the heat of a political campaign; heard him brand his accusers as "infernal liars and unmitigated scoundrels." I have seen 5,000 men pull Tillman from the stand and, lifting him high into the air, rush off with the most enthusiastic yells that ever echoed from mortal lips.

The lifting of a single finger of his caused a great concourse of people to hiss that brave and gallant old southern hero, General Wade Hampton, when he attempted to make a speech to his fellow citizens in his native state, and the simple "passing down the word" sent the young man irby to the senate as Hampton's successor.

Tillman never made a political speech until 1885. Then he suddenly sprang before the poor farmers. He used homely illustrations, and often they were forcible. He addressed enormous mass meetings and said things which attracted comment all over the United States. Here are some: "I deny that all men are created equal."

"I would rather go to hell with my followers than to heaven with the other crowd."

"I am one of God Almighty's gentlemen."

"I am rough and uncouth, but before God Almighty I am honest."

Ex-Senator John Lowndes McLaurin of South Carolina is a member of a family of old time southern politicians, his father having been a prominent figure in his section before the war and his mother having been a Miss Weatherly and a descendant of a long line of officeholders. He is a native of Marlborough county, S. C., and went at an early age to Englewood, N. J. His school career was a stormy one, beginning with a misunderstanding with a teacher in a Quaker school near Philadelphia which terminated disastrously for both, the teacher getting a drubbing and young McLaurin a dismissal. As an athlete he was popular with his school fellows, however, both at the military school which he afterward attended at Charlotte, N. C., and the University of Virginia, where he took the law course, being graduated in 1882.

He was successful as a lawyer and was an early recruit of the Tillman movement. In 1890 he was elected to the state legislature, and in 1891 he became attorney general of the state. He was a special pet of Senator Tillman, then governor, who spoke of him affectionately in public speeches as "little curly head Johnnie" and thereby fastened that nickname upon him.

Mr. McLaurin is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs about 175 pounds and carries himself as straight as an Indian. He is an eloquent speaker, has curly brown hair and blue eyes and a complexion as fair as a girl's.

BRAINERD, MINN., FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1901.

BY STORM AND FLOOD

LOSS OF LIFE AND GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN OHIO.

DETAILS ARE VERY MEAGRE

Rumored That a Man and His Daughter Perished Near Ripley—Family of Seven Said to Have Been Drowned in Brown County—Wires Down and Communication With the Stricken District Is Cut Off.

Cincinnati, June 7.—Up to midnight no confirmation could be obtained of the rumormongers that John Heit and his daughter perished in the flood near Ripley. Another unconfirmed rumor was extant in Maysville, Ky., that the entire family of a man named Hughes, consisting of his wife and six children, were drowned in their home near Ellsberry in Brown county, O. This rumor is believed to be an exaggerated account of the Heit case. No estimate of the financial loss can be made.

Cyrus Storer was drowned in Brush creek, near West Union. He was overtaken by the flood while fishing. Edward Stewart, a farm laborer, was struck by lightning and instantly killed in a field near Remington. Clement Apgar, who was working beside him, was rendered unconscious. Wires are down and all communication with the stricken district is cut off.

YERKES IN CONTROL.

Has Bought Up the London Underground Railway.

London, June 7.—"Yes," said Mr. Yerkes when interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press, "we have practically got control of the underground railways. That is what it means to us. My syndicate is composed of both British and American capitalists, though most of the capital comes from the United States. We hope to begin work in a few months, as soon as the consent of parliament can be obtained. The system we expect to put in is similar to that in use on the elevated roads in Chicago. We will sell the present equipment and introduce our own system. We intend to rebuild the stations and make the system the most perfect of any in the world."

NINE PERSONS INJURED.

Passenger Trains Collide Just North of Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss., June 7.—Nine persons were injured, three seriously, in a head-on collision between two Mississippi Valley passenger trains north of Vicksburg.

Of the passengers, Miss Mary Doughty of Nacogdoches, Tex., was the most seriously injured, her arm and hand being crushed. A number of other passengers were badly shaken up. The trains met on a sharp curve near Flower, 16 miles north of this city, and but for the prompt action of Engineer Jones of the northbound train in reversing his engine the wreck would have been more complete. The southbound train was six and a half hours late and was running at a high rate of speed to make up time. At Clarksdale, five hours earlier, the southbound train crashed into a caboose and Engineer Dana received injuries which may prove fatal.

FLAG DAY AT BUFFALO.

Patriotic Societies Will Visit the Exposition June 14.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 7.—The tentative programme for the flag day exercises at the Pan-American exposition grounds have been announced. They will take place in the Temple of Music on June 14. General Miles will be present and deliver an address. Richmond Pearson Hobson will also speak. Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, president of the Daughters of American Revolution, will deliver an address on "American Patriotism." President John G. Milburn of the exposition will welcome the patriotic societies represented in the gathering. The musical part of the programme will be in the hands of Sousa, whose entire band will be present.

OTJEN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Wisconsin Congressman Hurled Forty Feet by an Electric Car.

Milwaukee, June 7.—Congressman Theobald Otjen and his private secretary, Nathaniel Green, were run down by an electric car of the Milwaukee and Racine line during the afternoon while driving in a buggy. Both men are said to be seriously injured. The car was going at a rapid gait when Mr. Otjen made the attempt to cross the track. The buggy was smashed and the occupants hurled a distance of 40 or 50 feet. Physicians are now trying to ascertain the extent of the injuries.

AFTER A MINING COMPANY.

Dissolving Steps Taken by Minnesota's Attorney General.

St. Paul, June 7.—Attorney General Douglass has taken steps to dissolve the American Mining Investment company, and Sheriff Megard of Minneapolis served an order upon W. S. Brill, president of the company, directing him to appear before the district court June 17 and show cause why the charter of the corporation should not be revoked.

The company was organized Nov. 22, 1899, and since that time has occupied luxurious offices. At present it is located on the sixth floor of the Andrus building in Minneapolis, where a large office force is maintained.

The company has done a large business, but the attorney general claims that it has been in violation of law. Its business has been the promotion of mining, but under the terms of its revised charter it could engage in manufacturing, transportation, and almost anything it might choose. One purpose, according to its articles of incorporation, was to "borrow and raise money."

This it is claimed it did, but the state says its methods were not above suspicion. It has paid dividends regularly, but the attorney general asserts the money was not earned by the mines, but came from the sale of stock, of which it has an inexhaustible quantity, one company being capitalized for $500,000,000.

BEVERIDGE'S MISSION.

Has Had Long Interviews With Russian Ministers.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—Senator Beveridge has had long interviews with M. de Witte, minister of finance; Count Lansdorff, minister of foreign affairs; M. Pobedonosteff, procurator general of the holy synod, and Prince Khilkoff, minister of railways. He will begin a detailed study of the sugar, iron and cotton industries. He will now go to Kieff. In addition to the work already outlined before starting for Siberia, he will spend a few days on the estate of Count Sheremeteff, studying agricultural conditions and local self government from the "commune to the Zemstvo." He will be in European Russia for about a month.

INDIAN CHIEF IS MISSING.

Had Trouble With a Young Red and Foul Play Is Suspected.

La Crosse, Wis., June 7.—Chief Whiteboy of the Winnebago Indians has disappeared mysteriously and his whereabouts is unknown. It is feared that he was murdered, inasmuch as he had trouble with a young Indian, John Waukon, who some time ago abducted his daughter. Through the services of the police of this city the daughter was located at Stoddard, where she was taken from Waukon, who followed the father and daughter to this city, threatening to have revenge.

CRUISER SOUTH DAKOTA.

Will Be Launched Oct. 1, 1902, and Ready for the Sea in 1904.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 7.—The state historical society has taken hold of the matter of selecting a design for the new cruiser South Dakota, which is to be constructed by the government. As the result of correspondence with the officers of the proper bureau at Washington, the officers of the society have just been officially informed that it is the intention of the government to have the cruiser launched Oct. 1, 1902, and ready for sea Jan. 1, 1904.

ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER.

Jones, Rice and Rutledge Held for Killing Constable Boyd.

Toronto, Ont., June 7.—Jones, Rice and Rutledge, who were brought here from Chicago, have been found guilty of robbing the Aurora, Ont., postoffice. These are the burglars who made such a desperate attempt to escape Tuesday night when Constable Boyd was killed and Jones very badly wounded. They will be arraigned for murder. Crown Attorney Currin says Rice, who, it is alleged, fired the shot that killed Boyd, is supposed to have killed a man during a robbery in Chicago.

PRESIDENT CANNOT ATTEND.

Cancels His Date at the Buffalo Exposition.

Washington, June 7.—The president, through Secretary Cortelyou, has formally notified the Buffalo exposition management that he would not be able to attend the exposition on the 13th inst., as had been planned, but did so at some later date, not yet designated.

Naval Officer Courtmartialled.

Washington, June 7.—News has been received here through unofficial channels that Lieutenant Richard H. Townley of the navy has been convicted by courtmartial at Manila and sentenced to dismissal from the service. The charge on which Lieutenant Townley was courtmartialled was in connection with the recent commissary irregularities at Manila. The sentence must be approved by the president to become effective.

MAY BE VANDERBILT

RUMORED HE WILL BE ELECTED A DIRECTOR OF THE NORTH-ERN PACIFIC.

COMPLETE HARMONIZATION

Clash Between Important Banking Concerns Has Ended in a Compromise and Brings the New York Central and Pennsylvania Interests Into Lines Operating From Chicago to the Pacific Coast.

New York, June 7.—The Press says: W. K. Vanderbilt, or a representative of the New York Central system, will be elected a director of the Northern Pacific railway. Samuel McCrea, vice president of the Pennsylvania company, will enter the directorate of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.

These changes come supplementing the election of one of J. Pierpont Morgan's partners as a member of the directorate of the Atchison company and the election of W. H. Moore, an associate of Mr. Morgan, as a director of the Rock Island. They indicate complete "harmonization" of the important railroad interests of the country.

The clash between important banking interests has ended in a compromise, and included in the compromise is the introduction of both the New York Central and Pennsylvania interests into the lines operating from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

The elections of directors which have taken place and those in prospect in Western lines merely are steps toward carrying out a grand scheme of consolidation. More important, of course, among these details is the probable election of W. K. Vanderbilt, or a representative of the Vanderbilt interests, to the directorate of the Northern Pacific.

ROOT NOT CORRECTLY QUOTED.

Told Cubans He Could Not Change an Act of Congress.

Washington, June 7.—In view of the several representations made in Havana regarding the interpretation by the secretary of war to the Cuban commissioners of the Platt amendment it can be stated authoritatively that the secretary did not deviate from the declaration that the president and himself had no power to change an act of congress. It is said here that the amendments which the Cuban convention made to the Platt law and the incorporations of conversations with Secretary Root did not represent his views of the amendment. Nor was he correctly quoted in the alleged statements.

STOLE THE VETO.

Probably Thought the Measure Would Then Become a Law.

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—Governor Yates veto of a bill appropriating $25,000 for the relief of one Partello, which was passed by the last legislature, has been stolen from the office of the secretary of state, probably with the belief that the disappearance of the veto message would nullify the veto itself. A duplicate of the stolen paper was immediately prepared and signed by the governor. Partello was under contract to build the state reform school at Pontiac. He failed and his claim was for building material, which he claimed the state was liable for. The relief bill was vetoed by the governor.

President Grants Five Pardons.

Washington, June 7.—The president has acted upon 14 applications for pardons. He commuted four sentences and granted five pardons. Among those pardoned was Richard Toulmin, who was convicted in the United States consular court at Shanghai, China, in 1898, of the murder of a Chinaman on board the American ship Dosing, in the harbor of Wu Chow, and sentenced to life imprisonment in Shanghai prison for American convicts.

Held on Murder Charge.

Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—G. B. Dunton, a yard conductor in the employ of the Southern railway, has been bound over without bail to the superior court on the charge of murder. Evidence heard at the preliminary trial tended to show that Dunton was on the switch engine which on Tuesday ran into the Macon passenger train on the Southern, killing three people.

THE Y. M. C. A. JUBILEE

Grand Celebration to Be Held In Boston.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME ARRANGED

Over One Thousand Associations In All Parts of the World Will Be Represented at the Meeting in June—Founder's Son Will Be Present in His Father's Stead.

An event of interest to the Christian world, and particularly to the evangelical portion of it, will be the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian associations, to be held in Boston June 11 to 16, says the New York Herald. Judging from present indications, the gathering will be the largest in the history of the association and as remarkable for its personnel as for its numbers. Not only will a thousand or more associations in the United States, Canada and America's new possessions be represented by duly accredited delegates, but there will be an attendance from other foreign lands.

Mr. James Stokes has made a tour of the world, principally for the purpose of drawing attention to this jubilee celebration. As a result over a hundred gentlemen will be present from Europe, Asia, Australasia, South Africa and South America. Among the countries to be thus represented are Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Portugal, Russia, Spain, Sweden, France, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Holland, Italy, Norway, Switzerland, China, India, Japan, Australia and Brazil.

The programme of the Boston jubilee convention is an elaborate one. At the opening session addresses of welcome will be delivered by the governor of Massachusetts and the mayor of Boston, and responses will be made by prominent members of the Young Men's Christian association. The thirty-fourth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of North America will be organized on the afternoon of the same day, and in the evening a reception will be tendered to President McKinley, Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, and distinguished foreigners of various nationalities, some of whom will bear messages from their government.

The second day will be devoted to convention work and general discussion. On the third day a tablet will be unveiled in the Old South meeting house, where the Boston association was organized in 1851, and afterward a reception will be tendered the delegates by the Boston association in Faneuil hall. On the fourth and fifth days eminent men will speak. The jubilee will come to an end on Sunday, June 16, when a series of meetings will be held in Mechanics' building and in several churches.

One of the most attractive features of the gathering will be the singing by choruses, one serving at day, the other at evening sessions, each numbering hundreds of trained voices. The Boston association has arranged for numerous social entertainments and excursions to take place at odd times during the week and for a trip to Plymouth rock on the day after final adjournment, where an oration will be delivered.

The first organizations of Young Men's Christian associations on this continent were effected at Montreal and Boston, the former on Dec. 9, the latter on Dec. 29, 1851, and the first convention of American associations was held at Buffalo June 7, 1854, just ten years and a day from the founding of the parent society in London.

It was during a walk across Blackfriars bridge one Sunday evening in May, 1844, that George Williams and Edward Beaumont, both clerks in the business house of George Hitchcock & Co., decided to call a meeting to consider the advisability of forming "a society for improving the spiritual condition of young men engaged in the drapery and other trades." Young Williams conceived the idea, and Beaumont heartily approved it. The call was issued, and in response thereto 13 clerks met in what was then George Williams' bedroom on the evening of June 6, 1844.

After considerable discussion of an informal nature it was voted to form a society such as had been suggested and to name it the Young Men's Christian association, the name having been suggested by a draper's clerk known as "Smithy." A few weeks later a larger meeting was held, and the association was formally organized. Looking back over the 57 years that have passed, one may easily see in this group of London clerks and their bedroom meeting the germ of the great religious and social organization known today the world over as the Y. M. C. A.

George Williams afterward became Mr. Hitchcock's son-in-law and business partner and upon that gentleman's death, in 1863, succeeded him as head of the large mercantile house in St. Paul's churchyard which for more than a century has been known to the draper's trade. Mr. Williams, or, rather, Sir George, for the late queen knighted the founder of the Y. M. C. A., is now 80 years of age and is in feeble health. For 56 years he has been active in the work of the London association and in close touch with the work at large, and it has been gradually broadened and extended into all lands.

Until quite recently it was Sir George's intention to attend the coming jubilee convention in Boston, but the condition of his health is such that he has been compelled to abandon the idea. He will be represented by his son, a member of the London association.

LIEUT. JOSTEN NOW IN CITY.

Duluth's Crack Company Will Precede Regiment Here Two Days.

Lieut. C. Justen, of Company C, Third regiment, N. G. S. M., arrived in the city this noon to make arrangements for a grand military pageant, to be given here on the evening of June 13th. Company C will be excused from duty on the "hike" across country and will reach Brainerd two days before the rest of the regiment and will proceed to St. Paul, where the exhibition will be given on the evening of June 11, returning to Brainerd again by the evening of June 13th.

Lieutenant Justen, seen this afternoon by a representative of THE DISPATCH, gives the following description of the program, which is to be one of the grandest spectacles ever witnessed in the city:

"I received instructions from the commander of the Third regiment at Milaca to proceed to Brainerd to make all necessary arrangements for the grand historical military exhibition drills to be produced in St. Paul on June 11. Their stories are not believed by parties who have talked to them and they cross themselves frequently.—Daily Transcript.

THE Y. M. C. A. JUBILEE

Grand Celebration to Be Held In Boston.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME ARRANGED

Over One Thousand Associations In All Parts of the World Will Be Represented at the Meeting in June—Founder's Son Will Be Present in His Father's Stead.

An event of interest to the Christian world, and particularly to the evangelical portion of it, will be the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian associations, to be held in Boston June 11 to 16, says the New York Herald. Judging from present indications, the gathering will be the largest in the history of the association and as remarkable for its personnel as for its numbers. Not only will a thousand or more associations in the United States, Canada and America's new possessions be represented by duly accredited delegates, but there will be an attendance from other foreign lands.

Mr. James Stokes has made a tour of the world, principally for the purpose of drawing attention to this jubilee celebration. As a result over a hundred gentlemen will be present from Europe, Asia, Australasia, South Africa and South America. Among the countries to be thus represented are Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Portugal, Russia, Spain, Sweden, France, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Holland, Italy, Norway, Switzerland, China, India, Japan, Australia and Brazil.

The programme of the Boston jubilee convention is an elaborate one. At the opening session addresses of welcome will be delivered by the governor of Massachusetts and the mayor of Boston, and responses will be made by prominent members of the Young Men's Christian association. The thirty-fourth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of North America will be organized on the afternoon of the same day, and in the evening a reception will be tendered to President McKinley, Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, and distinguished foreigners of various nationalities, some of whom will bear messages from their government.

The second day will be devoted to convention work and general discussion. On the third day a tablet will be unveiled in the Old South meeting house, where the Boston association was organized in 1851, and afterward a reception will be tendered the delegates by the Boston association in Faneuil hall. On the fourth and fifth days eminent men will speak. The jubilee will come to an end on Sunday, June 16, when a series of meetings will be held in Mechanics' building and in several churches.

One of the most attractive features of the gathering will be the singing by choruses, one serving at day, the other at evening sessions, each numbering hundreds of trained voices. The Boston association has arranged for numerous social entertainments and excursions to take place at odd times during the week and for a trip to Plymouth rock on the day after final adjournment, where an oration will be delivered.

The first organizations of Young Men's Christian associations on this continent were effected at Montreal and Boston, the former on Dec. 9, the latter on Dec. 29, 1851, and the first convention of American associations was held at Buffalo June 7, 1854, just ten years and a day from the founding of the parent society in London.

It was during a walk across Blackfriars bridge one Sunday evening in May, 1844, that George Williams and Edward Beaumont, both clerks in the business house of George Hitchcock & Co., decided to call a meeting to consider the advisability of forming "a society for improving the spiritual condition of young men engaged in the drapery and other trades." Young Williams conceived the idea, and Beaumont heartily approved it. The call was issued, and in response thereto 13 clerks met in what was then George Williams' bedroom on the evening of June 6, 1844.

After considerable discussion of an informal nature it was voted to form a society such as had been suggested and to name it the Young Men's Christian association, the name having been suggested by a draper's clerk known as "Smithy." A few weeks later a larger meeting was held, and the association was formally organized. Looking back over the 57 years that have passed, one may easily see in this group of London clerks and their bedroom meeting the germ of the great religious and social organization known today the world over as the Y. M. C. A.

George Williams afterward became Mr. Hitchcock's son-in-law and business partner and upon that gentleman's death, in 1863, succeeded him as head of the large mercantile house in St. Paul's churchyard which for more than a century has been known to the draper's trade. Mr. Williams, or, rather, Sir George, for the late queen knighted the founder of the Y. M. C. A., is now 80 years of age and is in feeble health. For 56 years he has been active in the work of the London association and in close touch with the work at large, and it has been gradually broadened and extended into all lands.

Until quite recently it was Sir George's intention to attend the coming jubilee convention in Boston, but the condition of his health is such that he has been compelled to abandon the idea. He will be represented by his son, a member of the London association.

A FLOW OF ELOQUENCE.

High School Alumni Association
Meet Last Night At
Festive Board.

NEW CLASS IS WELCOMED.

Officers Are Elected For the Ensuing Year—Mrs. J. P.
Early President.

Not the least interesting of the many pleasant features of the commencement exercises of the Brainerd High School was the banquet given last evening in honor of the graduating class by the Alumni Association of the Brainerd High School in Walker's hall.

The hall was very comfortably packed by the friends of the young people and their friends and the appointments were very charmingly and artistically arranged, the ladies of the First Congregational church having charge of the service at the banquet tables. It was quite late when the jolly company took their seats and hence after the excellent courses were served and the toasts rendered it was very late, but no one seemed to begrudge the lateness of the hour, especially those who are of the alumnus, for the responses were of more than ordinary interest to them, and the older members enjoyed very much the reminiscences of the early formation of the High School by Prof. J. A. Wilson.

Miss Lucy Sterns presided at the piano during the banqueting hour and her execution of some very pleasing selections was highly appreciated.

About 100 covers were laid and the company enjoyed with genuine relish the various courses of delicious eatables, served in up-to-date style.

Mr. James Nolan was master of ceremonies and presided with dignity and grace. He stated that he felt that he was voicing the sentiments of the association when he said it afforded him great honor to welcome the class of 1901 as members of the alumni. An especial interest had been taken, he said, in this class and he hoped that the new members would strengthen the organization and that each individual member could be depended upon to further the interests of the order. He thought the record of the athletic teams of the High School this past year was an index of what might be expected from the members of the class of 1901.

The first toast of the evening was given by Mr. W. A. Spencer. He said that he did not know why he had been chosen to give the address of welcome that he was not the president of the association nor the vice president. He stated that at the present time the president was in Chilli and he did not know why he could not welcome the new class with a heartiness and gladness that would make the members feel an immediate interest in the affairs of the alumni. Mr. Spencer's words were received with applause as he painted a very pleasing picture of what would be expected of the members of the class in the world of strife. His remarks were very witty and they struck a humorous vein and the emotions of the happy gathering burst forth in frequent and hearty applause.

Miss Lottie Elizabeth White responded on behalf of the class. She stated that the members of the class were highly gratified to become members of the Alumni Association and she was sure that the members of the class would uphold her when she said that in the future the class would endeavor to do what it can in furthering the advancement of the association. The sumptuous banquet which was partaken of she thought was an indication of the feelings of the association and the gratitude and thanks of the class was extended the projectors.

Mr. Harry McKay responded to a toast on the "Alumni." He stated that throughout the past week thousands upon thousands of young people have been bidding farewell to halls of learning. From every direction the chosen youth of America have drawn the eyes of friends and relatives in admiration toward themselves. With a fond good-bye alma has turned away from the Alma Mater. And thus, while hundreds of high schools and academies upon which is lavished the wealth of this exhaustless country, while vast universities and colleges richer yet in long catalogues of great names and the stored up learning of the past are commemorating the farewell days of their sons and daughters, we the alumni of the Brainerd High School are in truth on the roll of honor.

Mrs. J. P. Early was heard to good advantage on "Banquets." She is one of the graduates of the High School in this city. She stated that the alumni so far has had but two banquets. The banquet last year was a great success but it was her opinion that the banquet this year was even a greater success. She stated that the members of the association now included 62 alumnus, not counting the class of this year, and she deemed this a very good number for the fourteen years that the school had turned out young people annually.

Toast Master Nolan announced that Father Lynch, Prof. Torrens and Prof. Hanft had been unavoidably detained but that other persons present would be called upon to respond.

"Minnesota" was the very pleasing subject assigned to Miss Mable Patterson. No place will ever appear to us as beautiful as the one which happens to be endeared to our hearts by early recollections and pleasant associations. Some may speak disparagingly of Minnesota but to those who have dwelled here the land is invested with all the charms of poetry and romance. There is always a feeling of regard for the old home and the memories of childhood days will never be forgotten and in the years to come one will turn with fond remembrance to Minnesota.

Mr. W. S. Cox next responded. No subject had been assigned him and he said that perhaps the reason for this was that the committee knew of no one who could talk so much and say so little as he. Attending the commencement exercises the night before Mr. Cox stated that a subject of one of the essays impressed him. It was the "Comedy of Life," and as he listened there came to him an insistence that would not be denied, this paraphrase of a well known couplet: "Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and it laughs behind your back." Life, he said was not all real, not all earnest. There are sunny highways and byways into which all life turns for a respite from the world's sordid cares, its sorrows, its sufferings, its horrors and its failures, and the life that loiters not in one or the other is sad indeed.

Superintendent of Schools J. A. Wilson responded to a toast on "Early Days." Mr. Wilson stated that he had come here in the fall of 1864, and as he greeted the young people of the class of 1901 his memory drifted back to the days of the beginning of the history of Brainerd's High School, and he could trace the developments and changes on down the years until the present day. His narratives were especially pleasing, each one serving as a chain connecting the events of this important institution. In 1885 the High School was completed and the opening of the school was the occasion of a grand demonstration by Brainerd citizens. The band was out and appropriate exercises were held. Mr. Wilson's talk was one of the most interesting of the evening. "Educational Advantages" was the subject assigned to Rev. A. H. Carver. Education he said was a word of many meanings, but it was very important that there be a proper recognition of the advantages in order that one may cope with the propositions in life that comfort him. Mr. Carver spoke at length about the practical education and the great demand there is in the business world for men and women who were practical in the especial work that they had taken up. This fact he said was becoming more and more realized every year. The same is true in the professions. This emphasizes the fact that education is a very broad term, but in every sense it must be a practical thing.

Miss Mabel Early responded to the toast "My Country" and gave emphasis to the thought that ones country should be foremost in all things. Her address was very interesting and was loudly applauded.

C. D. Johnson, the Bill Nye of Brainerd, responded to the toast, "Wandering Reminiscences." He, as usual, provoked a great deal of laughter and it would seem that Mr. Johnson is never so happy as when making a speech.

Rev. R. J. Mooney was not down on the program but he was called upon and he hit upon a very good subject, "Ambition." He stated that he would like to counsel the class to be ambitious for the achievements of great things in life. So many qualified men and women fritter their time away with trifles. Leonard De Vinci, after painting his famous picture, "The Last Supper," to his amazement, found that the people admired the draperies on the table cloth. The painting of the face of the Christ and St. John, which were conceded by the most celebrated critics in the world to have been master pieces, were ignored. De Vinci sank at heart and with humiliation withdrew his painting and changed the painting of the table cloth, making it plain white. The people came again to view the new picture and they were at once attracted by the sweet, beautiful face of Christ. To the young people, Mr. Mooney pointed out the lessons to be learned from this great work and the connection of the incidents related above and it was a very apt and ingenious illustration.

George Smith gave the good night, relating a few anecdotes and otherwise entertaining his hearers.

After the banquet the members of the Alumni Association held a short business session and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. J. P. Early.
Vice-Pres.—J. J. Nolan.
Sec. & Tres.—Harry McKay.
The young people danced a few numbers after the business meeting.

SUMMER SCHOOLS.

Will Open in this City July 8—Expected That a Large Number of Teachers Will be Present.

County Superintendent of Schools J. A. Wilson was seen this morning regarding the summer schools which are to be held in this city in July. To a representative of THE DISPATCH he said:

"The school will open July 8th, at 2 o'clock p. m. A large number of teachers will take advantage of this excellent opportunity to prepare themselves for better work. Some forty teachers of Cass county desire to attend, but their attendance in Brainerd will depend upon the cost of boarding. Little Falls, St. Cloud and Alexandria are offering these teachers every inducement in the way of reasonable boarding rates to attend their respective schools. If Brainerd is to secure the attendance of this large body of teachers, provision must be made for boarding them at reasonable rates. Any of our citizens who will either board teachers, or rent rooms in which teachers may board themselves, are requested to see me, to-morrow, in my office, in the Court House."

Resolved, that we, the rector and members of St. Paul's Episcopal choir tender Miss Barker our heartiest thanks for her untiring devotion to her work as choir directress, and assure her that by her Christian deportment, her charming manner, her ability and her unselfishness towards the best interests of our church and choir, she has elicited the gratitude of all and we pray the blessings of the dear Heavenly Father to be with her in all her ways through life.

TWO JUNE WEDDINGS.

Young People Well Known Here But Who Live Elsewhere to Be Married.

The beautiful month of June is always the time for many weddings. Two young men who represent large firms in the northwest and who have a large acquaintance here have decided to shuffle off the coil of bachelorship and both will be married.

One of the brides-to-be is also very well known in this city, Miss Jane C. Doak, who until the close of the present school year was a teacher in the public schools here, and who left this week for her home at Merriam Park. The lucky man is Mr. Ike Black, of Duluth, who makes Brainerd for Marshall, Wells & Company. The young couple will be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Doak, 1963 Carroll street, Merriam Park, on June 26th. They will be at home at Chester Terrace, Duluth, after July 5th.

Another wedding of interest will be that of Mr. Harry E. Brooks, of Sauk Centre, who travels for the Sauk Centre Milling Company, to Miss Olive Watkins, at the home of her parents in Milwaukee, Wis., on June 19. They will be at home at Sauk Centre after July 5. Both young couple will receive the congratulations of many Brainerd friends.

Taken Up.

Came to my place about April 15th, a bay broncho, branded on the left shoulder with a letter "B." Owner can recover by proving property and paying costs.

ANECDOTES OF IBSEN.

The following story is illustrative of Ibsen's wrathful but yet forgiving moods:

Some years ago Brandes was endeavoring to raise funds for the erection of a monument to the deceased Danish author Jacobsen. He begged Ibsen to head the list of signers, saying that his name and only his would touch the hearts and pockets of the citizens of Copenhagen, says the Philadelphia Press. This flattering suggestion was lost on the impassive poet.

"What others will sign?" he asked. "All our prominent authors." "Who are they?"

"Surely you know," replied Brandes, but he was compelled to repeat the names. "Well, who else?" "The Swedish writers." "For instance?" Brandes told him. "Next?" "The Norwegians." "Names, please."

With a sign of resignation Brandes went through the list. When he came to the name of August Strindberg, Ibsen sprang up in a rage.

"I will not sign!" he exclaimed. "And why not, for heaven's sake?" "He ridiculed my 'Nora.'"

In vain did Brandes strive to explain that Strindberg's ridicule had been directed not against "Nora," but against some silly women who had entirely misconstrued Ibsen's meaning. In vain did he offer to dispense with Strindberg's signature. The old poet remained inflexible. The mere suggestion of Strindberg had wounded him sorely.

The subscription was abandoned. Some years later Brandes visited Ibsen in Christiania. In the poet's study over his desk hung a life size portrait of Strindberg.

"So you have forgiven him," said Brandes.

"Whom?" said Ibsen. He had forgotten and could recall only after an effort the hatred that he had felt for the young writer only a few years before.

Brandes tells an amusing story of Ibsen's reserve and awkwardness in society. In 1891 a number of Norwegian authors and art lovers resolved to honor Ibsen and themselves with a small and exclusive banquet. Ah, but who would dare to carry the invitation to Ibsen? Eventually the task fell to Brandes. Ibsen made objections, insisted on seeing the list of guests and balked at the name of a woman whom he did not know until Brandes convinced him that he had been in love with the woman's aunt many years previously. The banquet came to realization, but when, instead of the expected nine guests, Ibsen found himself confronted by 20 the last remnant of his good humor vanished.

He took his place without a word or a nod to any one. To Brandes' speech he curtly responded that this was a toast to which many objections might be taken, but he would not go into them at that time. When a witty young actress extended to Ibsen the thanks of the players for the roles that he had written for them, he growled that he wrote no "roles" and that it had never entered his head when he was writing a play to devote five minutes' thought to the actors and actresses who might perform it.

This agreeable state of affairs continued throughout the banquet. But on leaving Ibsen remarked to Brandes with an expression of reluctant good humor: "It went off better than I expected. It was a very pretty little lunch." And everybody agreed with him.

High School Alumni Association
Meet Last Night At
Festive Board.

NEW CLASS IS WELCOMED.

Officers Are Elected For the Ensuing Year—Mrs. J. P.
Early President.

Not the least interesting of the many pleasant features of the commencement exercises of the Brainerd High School was the banquet given last evening in honor of the graduating class by the Alumni Association of the Brainerd High School in Walker's hall.

The hall was very comfortably packed by the friends of the young people and their friends and the appointments were very charmingly and artistically arranged, the ladies of the First Congregational church having charge of the service at the banquet tables. It was quite late when the jolly company took their seats and hence after the excellent courses were served and the toasts rendered it was very late, but no one seemed to begrudge the lateness of the hour, especially those who are of the alumnus, for the responses were of more than ordinary interest to them, and the older members enjoyed very much the reminiscences of the early formation of the High School by Prof. J. A. Wilson.

Miss Lucy Sterns presided at the piano during the banqueting hour and her execution of some very pleasing selections was highly appreciated.

About 100 covers were laid and the company enjoyed with genuine relish the various courses of delicious eatables, served in up-to-date style.

Mr. James Nolan was master of ceremonies and presided with dignity and grace. He stated that he felt that he was voicing the sentiments of the association when he said it afforded him great honor to welcome the class of 1901 as members of the alumni. An especial interest had been taken, he said, in this class and he hoped that the new members would strengthen the organization and that each individual member could be depended upon to further the interests of the order. He thought the record of the athletic teams of the High School this past year was an index of what might be expected from the members of the class of 1901.

The first toast of the evening was given by Mr. W. A. Spencer. He said that he did not know why he had been chosen to give the address of welcome that he was not the president of the association nor the vice president. He stated that at the present time the president was in Chilli and he did not know why he could not welcome the new class with a heartiness and gladness that would make the members feel an immediate interest in the affairs of the alumni. Mr. Spencer's words were received with applause as he painted a very pleasing picture of what would be expected of the members of the class in the world of strife. His remarks were very witty and they struck a humorous vein and the emotions of the happy gathering burst forth in frequent and hearty applause.

Miss Lottie Elizabeth White responded on behalf of the class. She stated that the members of the class were highly gratified to become members of the Alumni Association and she was sure that the members of the class would uphold her when she said that in the future the class will endeavor to do what it can in furthering the advancement of the association. The sumptuous banquet which was partaken of she thought was an indication of the feelings of the association and the gratitude and thanks of the class was extended the projectors.

Mr. Harry McKay responded to a toast on the "Alumni." He stated that throughout the past week thousands upon thousands of young people have been bidding farewell to halls of learning. From every direction the chosen youth of America have drawn the eyes of friends and relatives in admiration toward themselves. With a fond good-bye each has turned away from the Alma Mater. And thus, while hundreds of high schools and academies upon which is lavished the wealth of this exhaustless country, while vast universities and colleges richer yet in long catalogues of great names and the stored up learning of the past are commemorating the farewell days of their sons and daughters, we the alumni of the Brainerd High School are in truth on the roll of honor.

Mrs. J. P. Early was heard to good advantage on "Banquets." She is one of the graduates of the High School in this city. She stated that the alumni so far has had but two banquets. The banquet last year was a great success but it was her opinion that the banquet this year was even a greater success. She stated that the members of the association now included 62 alumnus, not counting the class of this year, and she deemed this a very good number for the fourteen years that the school had turned out young people annually. Toast Master Nolan announced that Father Lynne, Prof. Torrens and Prof. Hanft had been unavoidably detained but that other persons present would be called upon to respond.

"Minnesota" was the very pleasing subject assigned to Miss Mable Patterson. No place will ever appear to us as beautiful as the one which happens to be endeared to our hearts by early recollections and pleasant associations. Some may speak disparagingly of Minnesota but to those who have dwelled here the land is invested with all the charms of poetry and romance. There is always a feeling of regard for the old home and the memories of childhood days will never be forgotten and in the years to come one will turn with fond remembrance to Minnesota.

Mr. W. S. Cox next responded. No subject had been assigned him and he said that perhaps the reason for this was that the committee knew of no one who could talk so much and say so little as he. Attending the commencement exercises the night before Mr. Cox stated that a subject of one of the essays impressed him. It was the "Comedy of Life," and as he listened there came to him an insistance that would not be denied, this paraphrase of a well known couplet: "Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and it laughs behind your back." Life, he said was not all real, not all earnest. There are sunny highways and byways into which all life turns for a respite from the world's sordid cares, its sorrows, its sufferings, its horrors and its failures, and the life that loiters not in one or the other is sad indeed.

Superintendent of Schools J. A. Wilson responded to a toast on "Early Days." Mr. Wilson stated that he had come here in the fall of 1864, and as he greeted the young people of the class of 1901 his memory drifted back to the days of the beginning of the history of Brainerd's High School, and he could trace the developments and changes on down the years until the present day. His narratives were especially pleasing, each one serving as a chain connecting the events of this important institution. In 1885 the High School was completed and the opening of the school was the occasion of a grand demonstration by Brainerd citizens. The band was out and appropriate exercises were held. Mr. Wilson's talk was one of the most interesting of the evening. "Educational Advantages" was the subject assigned to Rev. A. H. Carver. Education he said was a word of many meanings, but it was very important that there be a proper recognition of the advantages in order that one may cope with the propositions in life that confront him. Mr. Carver spoke at length about the practical education and the great demand there is in the business world for men and women who were practical in the especial work that they had taken up. This fact he said was becoming more and more realized every year. The same is true in the professions. This emphasizes the fact that education is a very broad term, but in every sense it must be a practical thing.

Miss Mabel Early responded to the toast "My Country" and gave emphasis to the thought that ones country should be foremost in all things. Her address was very interesting and was loudly applauded.

C. D. Johnson, the Bill Nye of Brainerd, responded to the toast, "Wandering Reminiscences." He, as usual, provoked a great deal of laughter and it would seem that Mr. Johnson is never so happy as when making a speech.

Rev. R. J. Mooney was not down on the program but he was called upon and he hit upon a very good subject, "Ambition." He stated that he would like to counsel the class to be ambitious for the achievements of great things in life. So many qualified men and women fritter their time away with trifles. Leonard De Vinci, after painting his famous picture, "The Last Supper," to his amazement, found that the people admired the draperies on the table cloth. The painting of the face of the Christ and St. John, which were conceded by the most celebrated critics in the world to have been master pieces, were ignored. De Vinci sank at heart and with humiliation withdrew his painting and changed the painting of the table cloth, making it plain white. The people came again to view the new picture and they were at once attracted by the sweet, beautiful face of Christ. To the young people, Mr. Mooney pointed out the lessons to be learned from this great work and the connection of the incidents related above and it was a very apt and ingenious illustration.

George Smith gave the good night, relating a few anecdotes and otherwise entertaining his hearers.

After the banquet the members of the Alumni Association held a short business session and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President—Mrs. J. P. Early.

Vice-Pres.—J. J. Nolan.
Sec. & Tres.—Harry McKay.
The young people danced a few numbers after the business meeting.

SUMMER SCHOOLS.

Will Open in this City July 8—Expected That a Large Number of Teachers Will be Present.

County Superintendent of Schools J. A. Wilson was seen this morning regarding the summer schools which are to be held in this city in July. To a representative of THE DISPATCH he said:

"The school will open July 8th, at 2 o'clock p. m. A large number of teachers will take advantage of this excellent opportunity to prepare themselves for better work. Some forty teachers of Cass county desire to attend, but their attendance in Brainerd will depend upon the cost of boarding. Little Falls, St. Cloud and Alexandria are offering these teachers every inducement in the way of reasonable boarding rates to attend their respective schools. If Brainerd is to secure the attendance of this large body of teachers, provision must be made for boarding them at reasonable rates. Any of our citizens who will either board teachers, or rent rooms in which teachers may board themselves, are requested to see me, to-morrow, in my office, in the Court House."

A nice cool and refreshing drink or delicious ice cream soda at the Owl Pharmacy.

Take your shoes when in need of repair to Westfall & Georgeson; all work guaranteed. 3-3

Resolutions Adopted.

At a meeting of the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church held in the parish house recently, every member being present, and Rector Mooney presiding, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Miss Grace E. Barker is about to leave our city for her summer vacation, be it therefore,

Resolved, that we, the rector and members of St. Paul's Episcopal choir tender Miss Barker our heartiest thanks for her untiring devotion to her work as choir director, and assure her that by her Christian deportment, her charming manner, her ability and her unselfishness towards the best interests of our church and choir, she has elicited the gratitude of all and we pray the blessings of the dear Heavenly Father to be with her in all her ways through life.

TWO JUNE WEDDINGS.

Young People Well Known Here But Who Live Elsewhere to Be Married.

The beautiful month of June is always the time for many weddings. Two young men who represent large firms in the northwest and who have a large acquaintance here have decided to shuffle off the coil of bachelorship and both will be married.

One of the brides-to-be is also very well known in this city, Miss Jane C. Doak, who until the close of the present school year was a teacher in the public schools here, and who left this week for her home at Merriam Park. The lucky man is Mr. Ike Black, of Duluth, who makes Brainerd for Marshall, Wells & Company. The young couple will be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Doak, 1963 Carroll street, Merriam Park, on June 26th. They will be at home at Chester Terrace, Duluth, after July 5th.

Another wedding of interest will be that of Mr. Harry E. Brooks, of Sauk Centre, who travels for the Sauk Centre Milling Company, to Miss Olive Watkins, at the home of her parents in Milwaukee, Wis., on June 19. They will be at home at Sauk Centre after July 5. Both young couple will receive the congratulations of many Brainerd friends.

Taken Up.

Came to my place about April 15th, a bay broncho, branded on the left shoulder with a letter "B." Owner can recover by proving property and paying costs.

WM. TUDOR,
Sec. 2, 43-29.

The only soda in the city served in up-to-date style, at the Owl Pharmacy.

ANECDOTES OF IBSEN.

The following story is illustrative of Ibsen's wrathful but yet forgiving moods:

Some years ago Brandes was endeavoring to raise funds for the erection of a monument to the deceased Danish author Jacobson. He begged Ibsen to head the list of signers, saying that his name and only his would touch the hearts and pockets of the citizens of Copenhagen, says the Philadelphia Press. This flattering suggestion was lost on the impassive poet.

"What others will sign?" he asked. "All our prominent authors." "Who are they?" "Surely you know," replied Brandes, but he was compelled to repeat the names.

"Well, who else?" "The Swedish writers." "For instance?" Brandes told him. "Next?" "The Norwegians." "Names, please."

With a sign of resignation Brandes went through the list. When he came to the name of August Strindberg, Ibsen sprang up in a rage. "I will not sign!" he exclaimed. "And why not, for heaven's sake?" "He ridiculed my 'Nora.'"

In vain did Brandes strive to explain that Strindberg's ridicule had been directed not against 'Nora,' but against some silly women who had entirely misconstrued Ibsen's meaning. In vain did he offer to dispense with Strindberg's signature. The old poet remained inflexible. The mere suggestion of Strindberg had wounded him sorely.

The subscription was abandoned. Some years later Brandes visited Ibsen in Christiania. In the poet's study over his desk hung a life size portrait of Strindberg.

"So you have forgiven him," said Brandes.

"Whom?" said Ibsen. He had forgotten and could recall only after an effort the hatred that he had felt for the young writer only a few years before.

Brandes tells an amusing story of Ibsen's reserve and awkwardness in society. In 1891 a number of Norwegian authors and art lovers resolved to honor Ibsen and themselves with a small and exclusive banquet. Ah, but who would dare to carry the invitation to Ibsen? Eventually the task fell to Brandes. Ibsen made objections, insisted on seeing the list of guests and balked at the name of a woman whom he did not know until Brandes convinced him that he had been in love with the woman's aunt many years previously. The banquet came to realization, but when, instead of the expected nine guests, Ibsen found himself confronted by 20 the last remnant of his good humor vanished.

He took his place without a word or a nod to any one. To Brandes' speech he curtly responded that this was a toast to which many objections might be taken, but he would not go into them at that time. When a witty young actress extended to Ibsen the thanks of the players for the roles that he had written for them, he growled that he wrote no "roles" and that it had never entered his head when he was writing a play to devote five minutes' thought to the actors and actresses who might perform it.

This agreeable state of affairs continued throughout the banquet. But on leaving Ibsen remarked to Brandes with an expression of reluctant good humor: "It went off better than I expected. It was a very pretty little lunch."

And everybody agreed with him.

ANECDOTES OF IBSEN.

The following story is illustrative of Ibsen's wrathful but yet forgiving moods:

Some years ago Brandes was endeavoring to raise funds for the erection of a monument to the deceased Danish author Jacobsen. He begged Ibsen to head the list of signers, saying that his name and only his would touch the hearts and pockets of the citizens of Copenhagen, says the Philadelphia Press. This flattering suggestion was lost on the impassive poet.

"What others will sign?" he asked. "All our prominent authors." "Who are they?" "Surely you know," replied Brandes, but he was compelled to repeat the names.

"Well, who else?" "The Swedish writers." "For instance?" Brandes told him. "Next?" "The Norwegians." "Names, please."

With a sign of resignation Brandes went through the list. When he came to the name of August Strindberg, Ibsen sprang up in a rage. "I will not sign!" he exclaimed. "And why not, for heaven's sake?" "He ridiculed my 'Nora.'"

In vain did Brandes strive to explain that Strindberg's ridicule had been directed not against "Nora," but against some silly women who had entirely misconstrued Ibsen's meaning. In vain did he offer to dispense with Strindberg's signature. The old poet remained inflexible. The mere suggestion of Strindberg had wounded him sorely. The subscription was abandoned.

Some years later Brandes visited Ibsen in Christiania. In the poet's study over his desk hung a life size portrait of Strindberg.

"So you have forgiven him," said Brandes.

"Whom?" said Ibsen. He had forgotten and could recall only after an effort the hatred that he had felt for the young writer only a few years before.

Brandes tells an amusing story of Ibsen's reserve and awkwardness in society. In 1891 a number of Norwegian authors and art lovers resolved to honor Ibsen and themselves with a small and exclusive banquet. Ah, but who would dare to carry the invitation to Ibsen? Eventually the task fell to Brandes. Ibsen made objections, insisted on seeing the list of guests and balked at the name of a woman whom he did not know until Brandes convinced him that he had been in love with the woman's aunt many years previously. The banquet came to realization, but when, instead of the expected nine guests, Ibsen found himself confronted by 20 the last remnant of his good humor vanished.

He took his place without a word or a nod to any one. To Brandes' speech he curtly responded that this was a toast to which many objections might be taken, but he would not go into them at that time. When a witty young actress extended to Ibsen the thanks of the players for the roles that he had written for them, he growled that he wrote no "roles" and that it had never entered his head when he was writing a play to devote five minutes' thought to the actors and actresses who might perform it.

This agreeable state of affairs continued throughout the banquet. But on leaving Ibsen remarked to Brandes with an expression of reluctant good humor: "It went off better than I expected. It was a very pretty little lunch."

And everybody agreed with him.

DIVIDED THE OVERCHARGE

Gir Blundell Maple, Conservative, Asserts That British Officers in Austria and Hungary Purchased Broken Down Animals at Exorbitant Prices and Gave the Sellers Half of the Amount Over Actual Cost.

London, June 7.—After a long and somewhat embittered discussion of the policy of the war office in buying horses for use in South Africa, the house of commons by a vote of 153 to 60 voted the sum of £15,579,000 for transports and remounts.

Sir Blundell Maple, Conservative, asserted that British officers, who had been sent to Austria and Hungary, had purchased broken down animals at exorbitant prices and divided with the sellers the price charged the British government above the actual cost. He demanded the appointment of a commission of inquiry.

Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the war office, promised investigation would be made, and was confident that the charge would be disproved.

It is understood that the charges made by Sir Blundell Maple are of a very serious character. It is asserted that in one case an officer netted £50,000 in the purchase of horses in Hungary.

Dissatisfaction is said to have existed in the colonies because the government has been buying horses on the continent when colonial animals were available.

INDIANS ASK AN INJUNCTION.

Want the Supreme Court to Prevent Opening of Reservations.

Washington, June 7.—Suit has been begun in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by Lone Wolf and other Indians representing the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache tribes, asking the court to enjoin Secretary Hitchcock, Commissioner Hermann of the general land office and Commissioner Jones of the Indian office from carrying into effect the law providing for the opening of parts of the land of these Indians located in Oklahoma territory to settlement. ### AT MERCY OF GHOULS.

Said Lincoln's Remains Might Easily Be Carried Away.

Chicago, June 7.—The Inter-Ocean prints a story saying that the recent reinterment of the remains of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill., has been done in such a manner as to leave them in a measure at the mercy of body snatchers, and that steps are to be taken at once, at the instance of Robert T. Lincoln, to have the body placed as in the former monument, under a huge block of cement, where it will be out of the reach of any attempt at molestation.

Mr. Lincoln some time ago gained the idea that the remains of his father were not properly secured against possible desecration by body snatchers and determined to make an investigation on his own account. He went to Springfield in the disguise of a workman, and spent much time in and around the new monument. He came to the conclusion that the present location of the body left it in a measure at the mercy of anybody who should desire to carry it away, particularly as there is no watchman around the monument at night. He will take steps at once to have the matter remedied, and have the body placed so that it will hereafter be secure from any interference whatever.

Milwaukee, June 7.—The Pabst Brewing company suffered a loss by fire to the extent of between $150,000 and $200,000. One man was killed during the progress of the fire. Elevator "F" was gutted and a cupola containing the controlling machinery of the malt house, the building adjoining, was destroyed. The seventh or top story of the malt-house was badly damaged.

John Smith, a coppersmith, who resided at 79 Eighth street, died from injuries sustained by falling four stories while sliding down a rope.

In answer to specific inquiries, he replied that he could not say there had been any perceptible improvement whatever during the day.

The president continues "hopeful of the outcome. More than this cannot be said. There has been no setback during the day but likewise no gain. One favorable circumstance is that Mrs. McKinley continues to get more sleep than she was able to get in the earlier stages of her illness."

Slight Improvement in Mrs. McKinley's Condition.

Washington, June 7.—Dr. Rixey left the White House at 10 p. m., after an hour and a half spent in attendance on Mrs. McKinley. He said: "There is no material change in Mrs. McKinley's condition. She remains the same as mentioned in our morning bulletin."

In answer to specific inquiries, he replied that he could not say there had been any perceptible improvement whatever during the day.

The president continues hopeful of the outcome. More than this cannot be said. There has been no setback during the day but likewise no gain. One favorable circumstance is that Mrs. McKinley continues to get more sleep than she was able to get in the earlier stages of her illness.

CORRUPTION CHARGED

ALLEGATION IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT ABOUT BUYING HORSES.

DIVIDED THE OVERCHARGE

Gir Blundell Maple, Conservative, Asserts That British Officers in Austria and Hungary Purchased Broken Down Animals at Exorbitant Prices and Gave the Sellers Half of the Amount Over Actual Cost.

London, June 7.—After a long and somewhat embittered discussion of the policy of the war office in buying horses for use in South Africa, the house of commons by a vote of 159 to 60 voted the sum of £15,579,000 for transports and remounts.

Sir Blundell Maple, Conservative, asserted that British officers, who had been sent to Austria and Hungary, had purchased broken down animals at exorbitant prices and divided with the sellers the price charged the British government above the actual cost. He demanded the appointment of a commission of inquiry.

Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the war office, promised investigation would be made, and was confident that the charge would be disproved.

It is understood that the charges made by Sir Blundell Maple are of a very serious character. It is asserted that in one case an officer netted £50,000 in the purchase of horses in Hungary.

Dissatisfaction is said to have existed in the colonies because the government has been buying horses on the continent when colonial animals were available.

INDIANS ASK AN INJUNCTION.

Washington, June 7.—Suit has been begun in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by Lone Wolf and other Indians representing the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache tribes, asking the court to enjoin Secretary Hitchcock, Commissioner Herrmann of the general land office and Commissioner Jones of the Indian office from carrying into effect the law providing for the opening of parts of the land of these Indians located in Oklahoma territory to settlement. They also ask that the law authorizing the opening of the lands be declared void on the ground that the cession by the Indians professing to represent the tribes was unauthorized.

"In company with large German detachments, I attended the funeral of the French soldiers killed in the recent affray."

WILL USE THE DECIMAL.

New York, June 8.—George W. Cumberland, known to the American stage as George W. Thompson, "Father of the Elks," is dead in Brooklyn from blood poisoning following an operation upon his hand. He was born in New York city in 1836. He is said to have founded the order of Elks 35 years ago, becoming first exalted ruler of New York lodge No. 1, in 1868. He afterwards became deputy grand ruler of New York, secretary of board of grand trustees and deputy exalted ruler of the United States.

AT MERCY OF GHOULS.

Said Lincoln's Remains Might Easily Be Carried Away.

Chicago, June 7.—The Inter-Ocean prints a story saying that the recent reinterment of the remains of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill., has been done in such a manner as to leave them in a measure at the mercy of body snatchers, and that steps are to be taken at once, at the instance of Robert T. Lincoln, to have the body placed, as in the former monument, under a high block of cement, where it will be out of the reach of any attempt at molestation.

Mr. Lincoln some time ago gained the idea that the remains of his father were not properly secured against possible desecration by body snatchers and determined to make an investigation on his own account. He went to Springfield in the disguise of a workman, and spent much time in and around the new monument. He came to the conclusion that the present location of the body left it in a measure at the mercy of anybody who should desire to carry it away, particularly as there is no watchman around the monument at night. He will take steps at once to have the matter remedied, and have the body placed so that it will hereafter be secure from any interference whatever.

FELL FOUR STORIES.

Coppersmith Killed at a Fire in the Pabst Brewery.

Milwaukee, June 7.—The Pabst Brewing company suffered a loss by fire to the extent of between $150,000 and $200,000. One man was killed during the progress of the fire. The fire started near the roof of elevator "F," where four coppersmiths were at work making some repairs. It is thought the blaze originated from overheated copper, which ignited some screens. Elevator "F" was gutted and a cupola containing the controlling machinery of the malt house, the building adjoining, was destroyed. The seventh or top story of the malt-house was badly damaged.

John Smith, a coppersmith, who resided at 79 Eighth street, died from injuries sustained by falling four stories while sliding down a rope.
